

FACT SHEET

PSP51804: Diploma Government (Security)

Course Structure:

To be awarded this qualification the learner must attain a successful assessment in a total of 11 units grouped into 3 modules.

Module 1 consists of the core generalist competencies of:

- PSPETHC501B – Promote the values and ethos of public service
- PSPGOV504B – Undertake research and analysis
- PSPGOV505A – Promote diversity
- PSPGOV512A – Use complex workplace communication strategies
- PSPLEGN501B – Promote compliance with legislation in the public sector

Module 2 consists of specialist competencies:

- PSPSEC501A – Assess security risks
- PSPSEC502A – Develop security risk management plans
- PSPSEC503A – Implement and monitor security risk management plans
- PSPSEC504A – Coordinate protective security

Module 3 consists of electives chosen from:

2 electives from:

- Anywhere in this training package at the same or a higher level and/or from any other endorsed set of standards packaged at the same or higher level provided they do not duplicate any content covered in any of the PSP units.
- Alternatively, one elective can be chosen from a unit of competency at the Certificate III level.

The structure of your program will be dependent on your level of experience within the work environment and any recognition of prior learning you may be able to access.

Course content and final structure will be provided once any RPL action is completed.